

New Course: Career Planning & Decision Making

Beginning in Fall 2009, a new 1-credit undergraduate course will be available to College of Professional Studies students, ARSC 1040: Career Planning and Decision Making. This elective course is an important step toward academic success and job satisfaction.

ARSC 1040: Career Planning & Decision Making

Offered Fall Session 3

September 14 - November 7, 2009

Wednesday Evenings, 5:30-7:00 p.m.

USE CAREER
SEARCH
RESOURCES

INVESTIGATE
CAREER
OPTIONS

NO PREREQUISITES!

During this course, you will:

- Assess interests, skills, values, and personality characteristics;
- Investigate career possibilities; and
- Learn how to use a wide variety of career search resources.

Students will participate in self-discovery activities and learn about sound career decision making strategies in the world of work. This course stresses the value of the liberal arts education and places emphasis on exploring academic majors.

ASSESS
INTERESTS
AND SKILLS

For more information about job search strategies, visit Marquette's Career Services Center web site, <http://www.marquette.edu/csc/>.