

An Introduction to Servant Leadership

Introducing a new online undergraduate course, ORLE 198: Introduction to Servant Leadership, beginning this summer. This elective course will focus on the writings of Robert K. Greenleaf, who is recognized as the father of Servant Leadership theory. Students will learn how this approach to leadership development encourages leaders to serve others while staying focused on achieving results in line with the organization's values and integrity. "During this course students will explore how a leader can help others by understanding stewardship, foresight, transformational leadership, building of community, and self-awareness to help build strong organizations and communities," said Cheryl Coan, adjunct instructor.

NEW ONLINE UNDERGRADUATE COURSE

ORLE 198: Introduction to Servant Leadership

Offered Summer Session 3

May 26 - July 25, 2009

Prerequisite - ORLE 90: History & Theories of Leadership

To learn more about servant leadership resources and meet others who are interested in servant leadership, attend the Greenleaf Center's 19th Annual International Conference, which will be held June 10-13, 2009 at the Midwest Airlines Center in downtown Milwaukee. The conference provides the opportunity to be inspired by outstanding speakers including faculty member Cheryl Coan, who will be co-presenting with Juana Bordas, author of Salsa, Soul and Spirit.

The Greenleaf Center is looking for a number of volunteers to help with registrations, direct conference guests around the facilities, distribute handouts for workshop sessions, and collect evaluations after each conference activity. College of Professional Studies' students have the opportunity to volunteer for a shift and then attend conference sessions free of charge on the day of volunteer duty!

Volunteers should send their name, email address, phone number, and available date(s) and time(s) to cheryl.coan@marquette.edu by May 10, 2009.

For more information about the conference, please visit the Greenleaf Center for Servant Leadership web site, <http://www.greenleaf.org/annualconference/>.

SERVING OTHERS
FIRST

MAKING A CONSCIOUS
CHOICE

College of Professional Studies' students have the opportunity to volunteer for a shift and then attend conference sessions free of charge on the day of volunteer duty!

ASPIRING TO LEAD

Cheryl Coan, Faculty Member